A morning contemporary displays with much gusto, on the first page of its issue today, a picture of the interior of the Chinese Joss house on Plum alley, with the statement that it was the firs and only photograph ever taken of this room, and that it was made exclusively for the paper in question. Tussle Over Las Vegas Between Salt Lake Route and J. T. McWilliams.

THE RAILROAD HOLDS TRUMPS.

Will Fence Out the Outsiders-Statements from Both Sides - Comic Opera Situation.

The tussle over a townsite down at Las Vegas between J. T. McWilliams and the Salt Lake Route is getting interesting. McWilliams, who has sold several thousand dollars worth of lots, claims he has the only original townsite, clear title, plenty of water and everything necessary to make Las da. On the other hand, the railroad company affirms through Vice President J. Ross Clark, and its legal department, that the McWilliams townsite is a boom proposition situated over a mile from the depot, and that in between lies the famous ranch which is the property of Senator Clark. In or-der to reach the depot it will be neces-sary for the residents to make a de-tour of five miles to avoid trespassing on the company property.

Mr. McWilliams yesterday visited the editorial rooms of the Deseret News, breathing indignation at what he termed an unwarranted attack upon him by Mr. J. Ross Clark in an interview given this paper by that gentleman. He believed that the same was inspired by a member of the legal de-partment, viz., Mr. Whittemore. The interview in question was the outcome of a conversation extending for half an hour, and held in the board room of the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake road in the Descret News Annex on Saturday morning between a Descret News reporter and Mr. Clark. The interview was given as a piece of news, which it proved to be to a large number of people who were unacquainted with the situation at Las Vegas, and were under the impression that the alleged townsite was authorized by the

he railroad company.

Mr. McWilliams promised to meet the Mr. McWilliams profiles to the version of the, fo put it mildiy, misunderstanding between him and the railroad company. As he failed to put in an appearance the "News," in fairness to him reproduces an interview handed in o the Tribune on Sunday, and which the desired all the Salt Lake papers to "The object of the railroad company "The object of the railroad company is not to injure anyone or any private enterprise," said a member of the local legal department this morning. "Mr. J. Ross Clark simply gave the facts in the case to the "News" on Saturday to prevent people rushing in and investing in property without first investigating conditions. The policy of the San Pedro officials from the commencement has been not to boom any properties, but to allow the growth to be legitimate, and the direct result of the develop-ment of the country and resources."

"The San Pedro road and Mr. Clark will stand behind every word that was printed in the "News" on Saturday night regarding the effort to boom an alleged townsite at Las Vegas on the part of speculators."

part of speculators."
Continuing he said: "The alleged townsite, which has been filed upon, but has not yet been approved by the county officials, is situated, as already stated, all the way from two to one mile from the depot. In between this townsite and the proposed townsite of the railroad company lies the old Stewart ranch which was purchased by Senator Clark. In order to reach the real ator Clark. In order to reach the real townsite it will be necessary to cross company property, which is enclosed. one desiring to reach the depot will have to walk or drive around the ranch fence. In other words they will have to go five miles instead of one. They cannot come down the track because that will be fenced in also."

When asked regarding the statement as to there being pienty of water on the alleged townsite, Mr. Whittemore, local counsel for the road, said this morning: "There is absolutely practically no water, such as could be used in a town aside from that owned and controlled by the railroad company."

Mr. Whittemore produced an engineer's blueprint and pointed out just what resources there were. Notes indicated that under the surface at the depth of eight or ten feet there was a hardpan which retained water and that wells could be dug to tap this deposit. Some three miles away there were half a dozen "water mounds" from which there is a barely perceptible flow, and which is also surface water, easily contaminated. "With the exception of a small spring owned by Mrs. Stewart," said Mr. Whittemore, "there is no water for domestic purposes. This spring would be insufficient to supply the Continuing, he said: "As to the story of the ice plant being erected adjacent and on the alleged townsite, here it is: The definite location was fixed by the engineering department where the ice plant is now going up—south of the depot and a mile and a half from the line of the alleged townsite. Through some mysterious misunderstanding on the part of the local engineer's department, however, the foundations were dug on the spot named first. It is a significant fact that the erroneous location was made on land claimed to be significant fact that the erroneous location was made on land claimed to be owned by McWilliams. As soon as the error was discovered the location was changed to the original official location. "Now, as to Mr. McWilliams' connection with this alleged townsite. When I was over in Carson City some time ago, Mr. F. L. Wilds of that place called on me, in company with Mr. Hofer, and explained that he was the owner of the 80 acres which constitutes the alleged townsite in question, and that that if Mr. McWilliams made these statements he was affirming something that was not true. Mr. McWilliams, however, to me denied that he had made any such representations. "My advice to the public is to wait until the railroad company announces its plant regarding a townsite before rushing in in a feverish anxiety to be on the ground floor."

CLAIMS OF J. T. MWILLIAMS. Mr. McWilliams' side of the case as reported in the Tribune this morning

"Taking up the attack by paragraphs, I will say in the first place that, so far as Good Springs is concerned, I was the man who went to Vice President T. E. Gibbon in Los Angeles and showed that the sight was many miles off the railroad, and he called in Agent J. F. McPherson and had the matter stopped. stopped. "As to the Moapa, I know absolutely nothing of it.

with no fear of an epidemic.

"The station will be north of the Armour ice plant, not south. That plant is 4,900 feet from the townsite owned by me; therefore, the depot will be that much nearer the town. "Now, why should the railroad, or any of its employes, fight me in this matter? I am now contracting for a paid write-up in the leading mining journal in the country, and am sending thousands of maps all over the country. I have never tried to sell lots to outsiders, but have demanded that they come here and locate, and invite to come and investigate before When I went there first the town

"When I went there first the town was of tents, scattered all over the country, and I tried to bring all together. It was unsafe for a man to walk from one part to another, owing to hold-ups, and the columns of the Tribune will show that several crimes were committed. I asked the deputy marshal why he didn't drive them out, and he explained that he was only getting $50 per month, and then I told him I would personally pay him an additional $25 per month to clear the town of the thugs, which was done.

"As I said before, I cannot understand this attack, and the matter will certainly be investigated before I leave for Las Vegas. I am eager to work with the railroad people, and for that reason I have been advertising the towin in a way that will help them rather than interfere with any of their rather than interfere with any of their "As to my standing in the matter, my papers are all satisfactory, and the future will prove beyond a doubt that I have done nothing without careful investigation and through advice from my lawyers.

that the Armour ice plant, as at pres-ent located, is exactly 3,500 feet south-west of Vegan creek, near the intersec-tion of the railroad, and west boundary line of section 34, by measurement made this day and telegraphed to me.'

Judge Goodwin Concludes That He Is Not Guilty of the Charges Made.

CASE A LONG AND OLD ONE.

Taken Up by the Utah Bar Association With a View to Having the Accused Disbarred.

The report of the referee, appointed by the supreme court to hear the testimony in the disbarment proceedings against Atty. Ricy H. Jones of Brigham City, has been filed with the clerk of the court and it exonerates the accused attorney of the charges of forgery and champerty which were preferred against him. It was charged that Mr. Jones entered into a champertous contract with L. H. Berg in May, 1901, whereby the attorney agreed to assume the costs in an action filed against Berg by the Western Loan & Savings company and hold him harmless in the event that the case was lost. He was also charged with having forged the mark of his client, Martha, Allen, administratrix of the estate of Judge Allen, deceased, to an oath and with having used said forged instrument as evidence before the court. By the use of the instrument it was claimed that he instrument it was ciaimed that he instituted an action in the court against E. R. and G. R. Chase without the authority of his clients, the heirs of the Allen estate. The two charges against Mr. Jones were taken up by the Utah State Bar association and a committee was appointed to bring the matter before the supreme court. The court appointed Judge George F. Goodwin as referee and he heard the testimony in the case. In his report he says that the charges against the attorney were not proven and he is exonerated.

THE FABLED EGG OF GOLD.

IF HE MAN of the nursery-tale, who "killed the goose that laid the golden egg," founded a SCHOOL OF FINANCE and an ECONOMIC SYSTEM which have not yet become extinct. He has an occasional follower among the merchants of today. These disciples of the "Golden Egg School of Finance" are the merchants who discover that they are paying too much money for newspaper advertising. While the past year has been a prosperous one, and they have made more money than ever before, the totals of their advertising bills for the year frighten them, and they ask: "Would'nt it be fine to have all of this money in the bank?" And, like the founder of that philosophy, who wanted all of the golden eggs at once, they figure that they might just as well put the money in the bank as to pay it to newspapers. And if the man who killed the goose in order to secure the golden egg was wise, then the merchant who tries to SAVE THE MONEY WHICH ADVERTISING COSTS HIM is wise, too-for the two propositions are of exactly the same nature. Perhaps, however, the man of the fable would have been wiser to have fed, to have cherished, to have cared for his valuable fowl-to have spent money for her comfort? If this is true, it applies to the store advertiser, too
